DESCRIPTION

This small collection consists of correspondence with the Arizona Historical Society during the 1950s and 1960s. Also included is an address Lloyd Henning gave at the Snowflake Pioneer Days called "Sheriff, scholar and gentleman: Frank J. Wattron." There are two newspaper clippings of his death in 1968 that include a biography.

1 Box, .25 linear ft.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Lloyd C. Henning was born on November 15, 1885 in Plano, Illinois. He came to Arizona in 1889 with his parents. In 1901, he became a printer and worked for newspapers in Gallup, St. Johns, Flagstaff, Phoenix, Winslow and Holbrook. He married Esther Hess in 1911 and they had two children. In 1922 he organized the First National Bank of Holbrook. He was an original owner of Navajo-Apache Telephone Company, which he sold in 1957. He was elected to the County Board of Supervisors of Navajo County in 1933, and served until 1936. He served as an Arizona State Senator from 1941-1948. He died in April 1968.
