 - 5.2. Open discussion: Various ideas for the growth of the CHI program were shared. Many committee members recognized that the current CHI program has potential to be a robust program with many benefits to small historical institutions. The committee thanked Jason for the effort and masterful presentation of the CHI Certification: Technical Review. The review was shared with the committee prior to the meeting.
6. Open Discussion and Possible Action – Committee - Special circumstance mechanism to allow recertification consideration for submissions received after 15 January (possible 30-day grace period)
 - 6.1. Open discussion: The committee talked through possible special circumstances when a mechanism should be activated to allow a historical institution to apply for certification. There was no conclusive answer brought forth.

6.2. Jason updated the committee on the current extended deadline for this year's grant cycle. This extension was deemed necessary to allow institutions that may have missed communications over the fall and winter holidays to have ample time to apply.

6.3. No action taken

7. Approval of Committee to Move Forward on Special Circumstance Mechanism for Late Submissions from CHI's.

7.1. Jason presented a proposed mechanism for late CHI submissions. The deadline to apply for grants through the CHI program will remain a hard deadline. New applicants would be accepted after the hard deadline but would not be eligible for the current grant cycle. This would create a full certification status (eligible for current grant cycle) and a provincial certification status (not eligible for current grant cycle, will gain non-financial benefits of CHI status).

7.2. Shelley Coriell explained the AHS membership component of applying for Certified Historical Institution status.

7.3. The committee asked Jason to draft a proposal of the process to certify institutions after the initial deadline.

7.4. No action taken

8. Open Discussion and Information on Proceeding with Focus Group Concept and Direction from Staff on How to Proceed

8.1. Open discussion: The committee revisited various ideas mentioned in agenda item 5.2. Tom Foster and Robert Ballard (both are members of the Strategic Plan Sub-committee) mentioned that the AHS draft strategic plan would support moving forward with creating CHI focus groups. The committee was excited by this revelation and would like to discuss focus groups in more detail after a final copy of the AHS strategic plan is released. No action taken.
