

Doug Hocking is an independent scholar who has completed advanced studies in American history, ethnology and historical archaeology. He is a retired armored cavalry officer who grew up among the Jicarilla Apache and paisanos of the Rio Arriba (Northern New Mexico). Doug writes both fiction and history and is currently working on a biography of Tom Jeffords (think Jimmy Stewart in Broken Arrow) and has two historical novels in print: Massacre at Point of Rocks and Mystery of Chaco Canyon. His article “The So Called Bascom Affair” appeared in True West Magazine. He has been a member of the Southern Chapter Board since 2013. He has served as Sheriff of the Bisbee Corral of the Westerners (now Cochise County Corral) twice winning the Heads Up Award for best corral. He is on the board of the Sierra Vista Historical Society and Westerners International.
