

MAPPING THE TERRITORY

ARIZONA TERRITORY'S SESQUICENTENNIAL

Exhibits open at AHS Museum at Papago Park and Arizona History Museum

*Exhibit Opens
April 20, 2013*

Mapping the Territory is the 150th anniversary of the creation of the Arizona Territory.

Arizona History Museum

The exhibit covers the Gadsden Purchase in 1853 to President Abraham Lincoln signing the Arizona Organic Act in 1863, creating the Territory of Arizona. The maps in the exhibit show the changing physical boundaries of Arizona. Mining and military activities in the region – along with notable individuals - played a major role in the development and shape of the Territory of Arizona. These individuals, their activities and their politics influenced how Arizona looks today.
