Marshall Trimble is a historian, teacher, author, storyteller, folk singer, broadcaster, and Marine veteran who has been serving as the official historian for the state of Arizona since 1997. A native Arizonan, Marshall has taught Arizona history for more than forty years at Scottsdale Community College and has written twenty popular books on Arizona history. Marshall frequently appears on radio and television as a goodwill ambassador for the state. In 2011, the Arizona Historical Society presented him with our distinguished Al Merito Award in recognition of his lifetime service in promoting Arizona history. The Historical League honored him in 2014 as an Arizona Historymaker™. Marshall currently serves as President of the Arizona Historical Society State Board of Directors.

* The Arizona Historical Society Board will hold a regularly scheduled Board of Directors meeting starting at 9:30 a.m. The AHS Board may also reconvene immediately following the keynote speaker presentation. Board meetings are open to all AHS members and the public.

Attendees of the AHS Annual Meeting will have the opportunity to experience the Arizona History Museum, including these highlights:

- The inaugural Sonoran Wreath Festival is taking place November 4-18, 2016. View handmade wreaths by local Tucsonans and bid in a silent auction that will conclude on November 18. All donations will go to programming at the Arizona History Museum.
- The Museum Mercantile Store’s Annual Three Day Sale is November 3-5, 2016. AHS Members receive 25% off all purchases (excluding consignment items).
- Chasing Villa is a current bi-lingual exhibit about Pancho Villa and the 1914 U.S. Punitive Expedition.
