

Michael Wade is a third generation Arizonan. He is the primary management consultant with Execupundit Consulting, LLC in Phoenix, has written five books (including “The Bitter Issue: The Right to Work Law in Arizona” and “Leadership’s Adversary: Winning the War between Leadership and Management”) and has trained executives, managers, and supervisors in 48 states and Puerto Rico. Michael holds degrees in government and law from the University of Arizona. He served as a General Staff officer with the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Command. He was the EEO Administrator for the City of Phoenix prior to starting his consulting practice in 1984. He is married and has two children. Michael is a former president of the Arizona Historical Society.