BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE: Constance Wynn Altshuler was born in Chicago on October 4, 1908. She graduated from the University of Chicago in 1929 and worked for several Chicago newspapers during the next few years.

She married Dr. Samuel S. Altshuler (1902-1963) on March 4, 1934 and moved to Detroit. From the 1930's to the 1950's she wrote freelance fiction for U.S. and Canadian magazines under her maiden name of Constance Wynn. She earned a master's degree in statistics from the University of Michigan in 1939.

When Dr. Altshuler was called to serve in the Army Medical Department in 1942, she accompanied him to El Paso, Texas, and then in 1943 to Cambridge, Ohio, where she worked as an American Red Cross staff member at an Army hospital. After Dr. Altshuler was sent overseas in 1944, she worked as a statistician in New York. In 1946 she was allowed to join him in Frankfurt, Germany, where he was chief of medical services at an Army hospital. She worked as a civilian statistician for the Army in Frankfurt for a year.

The Altshulers moved to Tucson in 1948. Constance Altshuler became interested in Arizona history in the mid 1960's, beginning with research on Governor Anson P. K. Safford. Over the next three decades she wrote four books and numerous journal articles on territorial and pre-territorial Arizona history from 1850-1890. She specialized in the history of Army posts and personnel of the period. She won awards and commendations for her work from Company B of the 8th U.S. Memorial Infantry in 1975, the Arizona Historical Society in 1982, the Arizona Hall of Fame in 1987, and Governor Rose Mofford in 1990.

L. Boyd Finch said of Constance Altshuler: “My predominant memory of Connie is not that of a persistent and painstaking scholar, although she certainly was all of that; rather it is the image of a gracious lady. That was evident in many ways, but for me one facet of her character will forever remain. Occasionally, I called on her in the afternoon, and it was to be accepted that—before we settled into comfortable chairs to chat—she would offer a small glass of port. It was an elegant, charming touch, a moment of ‘old school’ gentility—a moment to savor.” (The Journal of Arizona History, 2000 (41) 2: 207-208)

Her published books include: Cavalry Yellow & Infantry Blue: Army Officers in Arizona between 1851 and 1886 (1991); Chains of Command: Arizona and the Army, 1856-1875 (1981); Starting with Defiance: Nineteenth Century Arizona Military Posts (1983); and Latest from Arizona!: The Hesperian Letters, 1859-1861 (1969).

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE:

Arranged in five series: Series I. Correspondence: Altshuler correspondence with other southwest history experts and individuals. Series II. Research Files: Comprised of typewritten sheets, individually labeled and taken from a myriad of primary and secondary resources. Of special research interest is her collection of biographical data on Cavalry officers and civilians who had dealings with the US Army. Another outstanding feature of this collection is her research and unpublished manuscript for a biography of APK Safford, one of Arizona’s first governors. Safford, who was appointed governor of Arizona in 1869, is said to be the originator of public schools in Arizona. Series III. Index Card Research Files: Composed of research files on typewritten index cards. Organized partly by subject and partly by chronology. Series IV. Microfilm: Composed of 14 microfilm reels, all in good condition. Arranged alphabetically. Series V. Oversized: Comprised of maps, charts, and over-sized copies of original documents. Some maps hand-drawn by Mrs. Altshuler.

Definitions to help navigate the finding aid:

- “Arizona Press” -- notes on articles from early Arizona news sources
- “Arizona District” -- US Bureau of Indian Affairs designation
- “Department of Arizona” – US Army organizational structure in Arizona
