Biographical Note

Photographs within these collections depict the Northern Arizona region in and around the Flagstaff, Arizona area during the period of 1883 to the present. Subjects include: buildings of the original and subsequent town sites; pioneer families; public works projects; community events; portrait collections from local studios; Native American activities; farming and ranching; the timber industry and other commercial activity.

Scope and Content Note

Photographs within these collections depict the Northern Arizona region in and around the Flagstaff, Arizona area during the period of 1883 to the present. Many of the collections herein were accessioned in association with manuscript collections, which in most cases bear the same nomenclature (name or title). Researchers should be aware, that with a few exceptions (Wells PH.#706; Peter Bloomer PH.#861; ALFA Studios, MS.#96 and PH.#705; Brooks Studio PH.#740; Curtis/Fairchild Studio PH.#745; among others), most of the photographic collections herein are not the intellectual property of a single creator. Rather, they represent photographs gathered in the course of the lives of typical Euro American settlers in the Flagstaff/Northern Arizona region, which in many cases may mean that any given collection contains a wide range of photographic subjects, often created by different photographers and without addressing one particular theme or photographic style (eclectic).

Subjects include: buildings of the original and subsequent town sites; pioneer families; public works projects; community events; portrait collections from local studios; Native American activities; farming and ranching; the timber industry and other commercial activity.

For a complete photographic index, see Arizona Historical Society/Flagstaff collection guides at Northern Arizona University/Cline Library Special Collections and Archives Department.

Organization

1 Series. Collections are listed as a single "series" containing indices for photographs within a specific collection. Each collection has a separate number, which is listed under the "Box/Folder" heading. When deemed useful, and as processing time allows, the guide includes specific, item level, photographic information within the sub series [list under the series]. Many of the images within the Arizona Historical Society/Flagstaff collections can be found in digital format at the Northern Arizona University Cline Library Special Collections and Archives Image Database [<http://www.nau.edu/library/speccoll/imagedb.html>].

Frank Curtis had served as sergeant in Company I of the 1st Arizona Regiment (later the 158th infantry), a part of the "Punitive Expedition" (1916) that went into Mexico after Pancho Villa under Pershing. He had a small-format camera with him on this expedition. He started work at Lowell Observatory (Flagstaff, Arizona) in 1909 as a general mechanic and roustabout. He later worked as a dome porter, and learned darkroom techniques from Carl Otto Lampland. He worked for Lowell part time until 1916. he married May Hicks in June of 1913--she was the daughter of Judge John and Albina Hicks, who owned the St. Anne apartment building and the Hicks Boarding House on Phoenix Ave. Curtis was born in 1885, and died in November of 1918 of influenza. At that time he was a government employee, a mechanic, in a ship-building operation in Portland, Oregon. John Fairchild is the policeman who acquired the Curtis photos at a yard sale and donated them, 20 years later, to the AHS Pioneer Museum.
