HISTORICAL NOTE

The Skyline Woman's Club was a social group composed of ladies who got together for luncheons and business meetings at the Skyline Country Club in Tucson, AZ. The club published a newsletter, had bridge parties, art and reading activities, as well as provided instruction in sewing, quilting, and crafts. It is unknown when the club was founded but an article in the scrapbook for February 1977 shows six past presidents for the organization going back to 1962 with Isabelle Nauman identified as the founder.
