Bret Harte, John
San Carlos Indian Reservation Notes
1857 - 1888

DESCRIPTION

This collection consists of research notes and photocopies of materials from the National Archives used in the writing of the doctoral dissertation "The San Carlos Indian Reservation 1872 – 1886" by John Bret Harte. Note sheets provide valuable information on the administration activities conducted at the agency as well as a wider focus on the turbulent activities and events in the Southwest during this period between Apache Native Americans and dominant Anglo population and administrators. Reference notes depict the rapid change in agency personnel and the difficulty in providing supplies, rations, and tools to assist Apaches in attempting a new life style.

10 Boxes, 7 linear ft.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

John Bret Harte is a great-grandson of celebrated western writer Bret Harte and has written books and materials dealing with Arizona and Southwestern history. He was born in Italy but was raised in New England, and attended Stanford University. Bret Harte earned an M.A. degree in history from Yale and in 1972 received a Ph. D. from the University of Arizona in Western American history. He has served as a research historian for the Arizona Historical Society in Tucson and edited several historical journals including Journal of the West. More recently he wrote as an editorial writer and columnist for the Tucson Citizen newspaper.

ACQUISITION

Donated by John Bret Harte in 1989 and 1991.

ACCESS

There are no restrictions on access to this collection.

COPYRIGHT

Requests for permission to publish material from this collection should be addressed to the Arizona Historical Society, Tucson, Archives Department.

PROCESSING

The collection was processed by Dave Tackenberg in November 2010.
