BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Julius Goldbaum, Arizona Pioneer and Merchant, was born in 1861 in Colorado. He was the second child out of seven children born to Marcus and Sarah Goldbaum, immigrants from Prussia and Bavaria. Julius' father was a merchant and a butcher, first in Wickenburg then Harshaw. Julius had left his siblings and moved to Tucson by 1880, starting as bar keeper, then becoming a clerk at Zeckendorf's Department Store. By 1890 he had become very active in the community, volunteering in the early Tucson fire brigade, Pioneer Hose Company, and helping to organize the Building and Loan Association.

He had also begun his own business. In 1886, Julius began to wholesale liquor and tobacco. Julius started a smoking club, called “Jule’s Club,” where he sold more expensive brands of cigars and pipe tobacco. Through the early 1890s, Julius expanded his business to provide many other items, including bar equipment, such as glassware, and dispensing equipment. He also sold wines and specialty food items, such as cheeses and canned meats. He named his company Julius Goldbaum, Inc.

On the staff of Goldbaum Inc. was Julius’ brother Abraham, and his brother-in-law Albert Miller, who had married Julius’ younger sister Fannie. Other members of Julius’ family lived in Tucson, including his father’s brothers Joseph and Isidore, who had changed their names to Goldtree. From time to time other members of Julius’ immediate family would work for him, either in his store, or in the Café Richelieu which he had bought in the late 1890s. His brothers, David, Emil and Solomon all work with him or, after they had started their own businesses, bought and sold items with Goldbaum Inc.

Julius married his wife, Jennie, around 1885. They had three children, Martha, Harold, and Sarah. Jennie herself became active in the business, and when the business was formally incorporated in 1899, she was a member of its board. The business began to fail in 1902, and in 1903 it went bankrupt. In 1904, Mr. Gustav Hoff was made the assignee for the company. Julius remained in Tucson for a short time after the failure of his business, selling real estate and running his café. Around 1908 he left Tucson and moved to California. He died in Alameda, California in 1927.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The records of Julius Goldbaum’s various business endeavors—primarily those of Julius Goldbaum Inc.—covers a date range of 1885 to 1906, and describe the trade and sale of goods in Territorial Arizona. The collection has been through a number of hands, first having been found in the basement of the Goldbaum store and home on Telles Street, then moved to a warehouse in the 1960s. Just before it was donated to the Arizona Historical Society the collection suffered serious damage due to a fire in the warehouse. As a result the majority of the collection now shows water, smoke, or fire damage in addition to the damage done by rodents and insects while in the Telles Street basement.

The records have been divided into eight series—Personal Correspondence, Business Records, Revenue Correspondence, Business Correspondence, Financial Records, Printed Material, Boxed Ledgers, and Wrapped Ledgers. Series 1, Personal Correspondence, covers material that have to do with family correspondence, mining interests of Julius Goldbaum, and life insurance. Series 2, Business Records, covers the incorporation of Julius Goldbaum Inc. (JGI), stock certificates, business licenses, and papers relating to the bankruptcy of JGI. Series 3, Revenue Correspondence, covers letters and forms to and from the U.S. Revenue Service.

Series 4, Business Correspondence, and Series 5, Financial Records, contain the heart of the collection. The business correspondence, f.18-f.116, consists primarily of: 1) letters to and from clients of Goldbaum’s concerning the purchase of good; and, 2) letters to and from Goldbaum’s suppliers. The letters from clients are under their name, not their store (most were merchants) or place of business. Hence, if one was looking to find what goods might have been purchased by the Montana Mining Camp, the researcher should look under “Andrew, J.S.,” the operator of the General Store at the camp. There are some exceptions to the rule, such as the Arizona Copper Company, but in general the researcher should begin under the individual merchants' name. To confuse matters the suppliers of Goldbaum's goods, are alphabetized by business name. For example, under A, the researcher would find the Abramson, Bacon, & Heunisch Company of San Francisco, the supplier of the glass bottles that Goldbaum used for bottling his liquor. The business correspondence also includes a large selection of letters in Spanish. Goldbaum bought liquor and tobacco goods from a number of Mexican firms and also sold goods to a large number of Mexican-American café/saloon owners.

The financial records contain the bills, receipts, and orders to clients and suppliers of Goldbaum Inc. The accounts payable and receivable records, f.129 to f.148, are organized by name of the company, the majority being bills from suppliers. For example, in folder 126, the researcher would find the bills for the glass bottles that Goldbaum ordered from the Abramson, Bacon, & Heunisch Company. The researcher can use these records to support the correspondence in Series 4. Also included in the financial records are the Southern Pacific Express receipts and samples of order books used by his travelling salesmen.

Series 6, Printed Material, include such items as cigar and liquor labels, advertising pamphlets, price books, and the like. There is one very interesting item, an anti-Chinese labor letter, sent to distributors of cigars and other tobacco products, asking distributors not to sell items made with Chinese labor (f. 165). Series 7, Boxed Ledgers, and Series 8, Wrapped Ledgers, contain everything from daily sales, to client lists, to debts owed. They are useful as an index to the names of various clients and suppliers of Goldbaum Inc. The wrapped ledgers are numbered 1 to 66. These wrapped ledgers include copybooks, account ledgers, and scrapbooks. One ledger that will be of particular interest to researchers is Ledger 21, an advertising scrapbook from 1893 to 1903 which includes advertising in Spanish, English, and a moving notice in Chinese. Please note that the ledgers have suffered severe damage from the fire, and one, Ledger 19, had to be removed from the collection because it was unusable and unreadable.
