Pimería Alta Historical Society

Mexican Revolution and Nogales materials, ca. 1910-1920, 2007

DESCRIPTION

One notebook containing the May 2007 issue of Pimería Past, newsletter of the Pimería Alta Historical Society in Nogales, Arizona, and copies of photographs, relating to the Mexican Revolution as it impacted Nogales. An article by Axel C. F. Holm describes the history of the Nogales area as it related to the Mexican Revolution. Photographs include Camp Nogales (later Camp Stephen D. Little), Mexican federal troops, Venustiano Carranza, Gen. Obregon, Francisco "Pancho" Villa, and others. The materials are provided for research only. Some of the photographs are available in the Arizona Historical Society's collections and may be available from us; others are not, and arrangements must be made with the Pimería Alta Historical Society for use.

1 box, .25 linear ft.

HISTORICAL NOTE

U. S. troops were sent to Nogales, Arizona following the outbreak of the Mexican Revolution and Camp Nogales was established in 1910. The name was changed to Camp Stephen D. Little in 1915; named for Private Little who was killed in a brief battle when Mexican forces mistakenly shot at American soldiers.
