BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE: Elizabeth Ramenofsky was born in Globe, AZ in 1908. Her father, Max Lantin, was a merchant who came west from New Haven, CT, went to Jerome, AZ and then finally settled in Globe, AZ. He married Lillie Solomon and had two children, Elizabeth and Philip. Her father moved the family from Globe, AZ to Los Angeles, CA in 1921 when he opened an import store called the Lantin Importing Co. In 1925, she graduated from high school and entered the University of California, Berkeley. She graduated with a bachelor of arts with a major in economics from the University of Illinois. In 1936, she married Dr. Abraham I. Ramenofsky, returned to Arizona and raised four children. Later, she developed an interest for writing and research, and began investigating the history of the Solomon family. She died in 1996.

Elizabeth's grandfather, I.E. (Isadore Elkan) Solomon settled the town of Solomonville, AZ. The town's name was later changed to Solomon. I.E. and his wife Anna were both Jewish immigrants from the Province of Posen in Eastern Germany. He settled first in Towanda, PA and then later headed in 1876 to the Gila River area in the Arizona Territory. There he established farms, irrigation canals, a mercantile company and later the Gila Valley Bank which later became Valley National Bank.

Ramenofsky, Elizabeth. From Charcoal to Banking: The I.E. Solomons of Arizona. Tucson, AZ: Westernlore Press, 1984.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE: The collection contains research notes and photographs on the Arizona pioneer families of Solomon, Lantin, Lesinsky, and Freudenthal. This collection also has materials about the town of Solomonville, AZ, Gila Valley Bank, a forerunner to Valley National Bank, and other topics on Arizona and southwestern history. These files were most likely used for Ramenofsky's book entitled From Charcoal to Banking: The I.E. Solomons of Arizona. Of interest in this collection is the Jewish migration experience to Arizona and the Southwest and the founding of Solomonville, AZ. Photographs in Series II date back to the late 1880's. There are photographs of Globe, AZ, various buildings in Solomonville, AZ and images of family members. Overall, these photographs are a wonderful documentation of early life in Arizona.

The collection is arranged into two series; Series I: Research Files; Series II: Photographs. Files are arranged alphabetically within each series.
